

CANADA

Posted on December 28, 2020 by Naeem Noor

Canada is located in North America. It is the second largest in the world after Russia. Canada borders the United States to the south and northwest. The capital of the federal state is Ottawa. It is a multinational country, but representatives of different peoples have formed into a single nation. The official currency is the Canadian dollar.

Etymology discusses where a term is considered to have originated from and how its meaning has changed over time. Etymology has been a factor in the naming of countries all across the world, and Canada has also been influenced. The etymology of Canada can be defined as; "Village", from Iroquoian Kanada, adopted for the entire Canadian Confederation in 1867.

Catholicism is the most widespread religion in Canada, with Protestantism trailing it in terms of followers. Orthodox, Jews, Muslims, and followers of Buddhism and Hinduism are also commonly observed.

The domain is .ca and the country code is +1. The national colors of the country are red and white. The emoji flag of the country is 🇨🇦 and the ISO code is CAN.

The national symbols of Canada are traditionally considered to be the maple leaf, elk, beaver, and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The appearance of these national symbols is due to the country's geographical location, and natural and historical features.

The country has the time zone UTC-3.5 to -8 followed by yyyy/mm/dd as the standard date format.

Poutine is a national Canadian dish of fries, cheese, and sauce (potatoes are poured with sauce, and then sprinkled with cottage cheese), which is very popular and served in all fast food restaurants in the country.

The literacy rate in Canada is 99.0%.

Although the national sport is considered lacrosse - a game of the indigenous peoples of Canada, in which two teams try to hit the opponent's goal with a ball, using a stick-like projectile - Canadians love hockey most of all. Lacrosse is considered one of the national symbols of Canada.

Museums are known to educate and connect visitors with the nation's history, culture, civilization, art, and architecture. The Canadian Museum of History serves the same purpose and is considered one of the most significant tourist attractions. The Canadian Museum of History is home to a large collection of artifacts. It has been designated as the national museum of the country.

Due to their unique qualities and rich cultural or historical backgrounds, national monuments around the world are of great importance. National War Memorial is recognized as the national monument of the country. It attracts visitors from all around the world.

Numerous organizations are working on a global level to improve the current state of affairs and to collaborate in order to establish and maintain constructive partnerships. Canada is a member of the Commonwealth of Nations, North Atlantic Treaty Organization \(NATO\), Organisation internationale de la Francophonie \(OIF\), Organization of American States \(OAS\), and United Nations \(UN\). Canada collaborates with them to organize, analyze, and address various events and situations.

"O Canada" is the national anthem of Canada. Since the country has two official languages, there are two official versions of the Canadian national anthem.

Canada Day (Fête du Canada) is a national holiday in Canada. It is celebrated on July 1, except when the holiday falls on a Sunday. In this case, the day off is considered to be July 2, with all the festivities usually taking place on July 1.

Justin Trudeau is the current Prime Minister of Canada.

Canada has declared French and English as the country's official languages.

---

- Learn about Canada flag color codes and their meanings -

---

- Further information regarding the symbols and knowledge of Canada can be found in the table of contents-

There are no comments yet.