

MEXICO

Posted on December 28, 2020 by Naeem Noor

Mexico is a country in North America. The official name of Mexico is the United Mexican States. It shares borders with 3 countries: the United States of America, Guatemala, and Belize. The people of Mexico are called Mexicans. The country is in North America, bordering the Caribbean Sea and the Gulf of Mexico, between Belize and the United States, and bordering the North Pacific Ocean, between Guatemala and the United States.

An ethnicity is a group or sub-group of people who are connected based on common characteristics which may include religion, origin, language, traditions, or culture. The ethnic groups in Mexico include 56 Amerindian and diverse foreign ethnic groups.

Aeroméxico is the national airline of Mexico. The national colors of the country are green, white, and red. The emoji flag of the country is ????????, and the ISO code is MEX.

Mexico is known for its spicy cuisine, festive drinks, and some of the best beach destinations in the world. The national dish of Mexico is Mole Poblano. Tequila, in addition to being a traditional beverage, is one of the country's national drinks. The national instrument of Mexico is Marimba.

The country has the time zone UTC-8 to -5 followed by dd/mm/yyyy as the standard date format.

Mexico is divided into 31 Estados and 1 autonomous city. The capital of the country is Mexico City, which is also the largest city in Mexico.

The literacy rate in Mexico is 94.9%.

The country's total area is 1,972,550 km² (761,610 sq mi), and the total population is 128,932,753. The country's average elevation is 1,111 m (3,645 ft), whereas the country's terrain can be defined as; High, rugged mountains; low coastal plains; high plateaus; desert. The country's usual climate varies from tropical to desert.

The area of land next to a sea is called the coast, and a coastline is defined as the line where land and sea meet. Mexico has 9,330 km of coastline.

The Mexican Peso serves as the national unit of currency, and the Bank of Mexico is recognized as the country's central bank. The domain for Mexico is .mx and the country code is +52. Golden eagle is the country's coat of arms.

Museums are known to educate and connect visitors with the nation's history, culture, civilization, art, and architecture. Museo Nacional de Antropología serves the same purpose and is considered one of the most significant tourist attractions. Museo Nacional de Antropología is home to a large collection of artifacts. It has been designated as the national museum of the country.

The national dress of Mexico is the Huipil, and 16 September is designated as National Day. In Mexico, the majority of the population practices Christianity, Roman Catholicism, and Protestantism as their religion.

Nature is a blessing from God and we must protect it because it provides us with the oxygen and food to survive. It also helps to keep our environment beautiful and clean. To emphasize the significance of nature, Mexico has selected a few forces of nature as national symbols. The Golden eagle is the national bird and the national animal of Mexico. The national flower is Dahlia, whereas the national tree of Mexico is the Montezuma Baldcypress, and the highest peak is Pico de Orizaba.

Mythical creatures can be found in the literature and mythologies of many different nations. They represent imaginative representations of various creatures, humans, or hybrids. They are known for their specific features, supernatural abilities, and distinctive appearance. The mythical creature of Mexico is Quetzalcoatl.

Sports have always played an important role in developing the social and cultural structure of Mexico and other countries. When it comes to designating a sport as the official symbol, Charrería is considered the country's national sport.

Poetry is a highly valued form of art, and many poets are considered significant national symbols of the country. The national poets of Mexico are Ramón López Velarde and Octavio Paz.

Miguel Hidalgo y Costilla is the founder of Mexico. The country's national anthem was written by Francisco González Bocanegra, and composed by Jaime Nunó.

Mausoleums are buildings dedicated to holding someone's remains. It serves as a reminder of the nation's revolutionary fighters who sacrificed their lives for the country. Mausoleums are one of the most significant historical landmarks. The national mausoleum of Mexico is Mausoleum of Illustrious People. The country's national hero is Benito Pablo Juárez García.

Due to their unique qualities and rich cultural or historical backgrounds, national monuments around the world are of great importance. Monumento a la Independencia is recognized as the national monument of the country. It attracts visitors from all around the world.

Numerous organizations are working on a global level to improve the current state of affairs and to collaborate in order to establish and maintain constructive partnerships. Mexico is a member of the Organization of American States \(OAS\), and United Nations \(UN\). Mexico collaborates with them to organize, analyze, and address various events and situations.

The tourism slogan of the country is "A World of Its Own", and Andrés Manuel López Obrador is the President.

Mexico has declared Spanish as the country's official language.

- Further information regarding the symbols and knowledge of Mexico can be found in the table of contents -

There are no comments yet.