

PALESTINE

Posted on March 4, 2021 by Naeem Noor

Palestine is a country in Asia. The official name of Palestine is the State of Palestine. It shares borders with 2 countries: Egypt, and Jordan. The people of Palestine are called Palestinians. The country is in the Middle East, west of Jordan, and east of Israel.

Etymology discusses where a term is considered to have originated from and how its meaning has changed over time. Etymology has been a factor in the naming of countries all across the world, and Palestine has also been influenced. The etymology of Palestine can be defined as; The word Palestine derives from Philistia, the name given by Greek writers to the land of the Philistines, who in the 12th century bce occupied a small pocket of land on the southern coast, between modern Tel Aviv–Yafo and Gaza.

An ethnicity is a group or sub-group of people who are connected based on common characteristics which may include religion, origin, language, traditions, or culture. The ethnic groups in Palestine include Arabs and Jews.

The national colors of the country are red, white, and green. The emoji flag of the country is ????????, and the ISO code is PSE.

Palestine is known as the Holy Land and is held sacred among Muslims, Christians, and Jews. The national dish of Palestine is Musakhan. Limonana, in addition to being a traditional beverage, is one of the country's national drinks. The national instrument of Palestine is Oud.

The country has the time zone UTC+2 (Palestine Standard Time) followed by dd/mm/yyyy as the standard date format.

Palestine is divided into 16 governorates. Gaza City is Palestine's largest city, while Ramallah, East Jerusalem serves as the capital.

The literacy rate in Palestine is 96.3%.

The country's total area is 6,020 km² (2,320 sq mi), and the total population is 5,101,414. The country's average elevation is 1000ft, whereas the country's terrain can be defined as; Mostly rugged dissected upland, with some vegetation in the west, but barren in the east. The country's usual climate is temperate; temperature and precipitation vary with altitude, with warm to hot summers, and cool to mild winters.

The area of land next to a sea is called the coast, and a coastline is defined as the line where land and sea meet. Palestine has 40 km of coastline.

The Israeli Shekel and Jordanian dinar serve as the national unit of currency, and Palestine Monetary Authority is recognized as the country's central bank. The domain for Palestine is .ps and the country code is +970. The Eagle of Saladin is the country's coat of arms.

The national dress of Palestine is the Palestinian Thobe, and 15 November is designated as National

Day. In Palestine, the majority of the population practices Islam as their religion.

Nature is a blessing from God and we must protect it because it provides us with the oxygen and food to survive. It also helps to keep our environment beautiful and clean. To emphasize the significance of nature, Palestine has selected a few forces of nature as national symbols. Palestine's national bird is the Palestine sunbird, while its national animal is the Mountain gazelle. The national flower is Faqqua iris, whereas the Prickly pear is the country's national fruit. The national tree of Palestine is the Olive tree, and the highest peak is Nabi Yunis.

Mythical creatures can be found in the literature and mythologies of many different nations. They represent imaginative representations of various creatures, humans, or hybrids. They are known for their specific features, supernatural abilities, and distinctive appearance. The mythical creature of Palestine is Jinn.

Sports have always played an important role in developing the social and cultural structure of Palestine and other countries. When it comes to designating a sport as the official symbol, Football is considered the country's national sport.

Poetry is a highly valued form of art, and many poets are considered significant national symbols of the country. The national poet of Palestine is Mahmoud Darwish.

Yasser Arafat (Modern Palestine) is the founder of Palestine. The country's national anthem was written by Said Al Muzayin, and composed by Ali Ismael.

Mausoleums are buildings dedicated to holding someone's remains. It serves as a reminder of the nation's revolutionary fighters who sacrificed their lives for the country. Mausoleums are one of the most significant historical landmarks. The national mausoleum of Palestine is The Yasser Arafat Mausoleum, and the country's national hero is Yasser Arafat.

Numerous organizations are working on a global level to improve the current state of affairs and to collaborate in order to establish and maintain constructive partnerships. Palestine is a member of the Arab League, and the Organisation of Islamic Cooperation \(OIC\). Palestine collaborates with them to organize, analyze, and address various events and situations.

The tourism slogan of the country is "A Land of the Heart" whereas, "From the River to the Sea" is the official motto of the country.

Mohammad Shtayyeh is the current Prime minister of Palestine, and Mahmoud Abbas is the President.

Palestine has declared Arabic as the country's official language.

- Further information regarding the symbols and knowledge of Palestine can be found in the table of contents -

