

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Posted on December 28, 2020 by Naeem Noor

The United States of America is a country in North America. It has state borders with three countries: in the north with Canada, in the northwest with Russia (by sea), and in the south with Mexico. It is one of the largest states in the world in terms of territory size, length of borders, population, and economic, political, and cultural influence. The capital of the U.S.A. is Washington.

The United States is a very multinational country with a large number of nationalities, many of which have preserved their language and traditions. If we divide the population into groups by racial characteristics, whites make up 83.4% (among them, we can distinguish diasporas of Irish, Italians, Jews, Russians, Poles, Ukrainians), Africans - 12.4%, Asians and Pacific Islanders - 3.3%, American Indians - less than 1%.

The official language is English. About 32 million people use a second language, the most popular of which are Spanish, Chinese, Russian, Polish, and Korean.

Religion: Protestants (56%), Catholics (26%), Jews (2%), Buddhists, Hindus, etc.

The United States dollar is the currency of the United States, one of the main reserve currencies of the world (1 dollar = 100 cents). Designation: $ or USD.

The country code is +1 and the domain is .us.

Every country in the world has such national symbols as a flag, anthem, and seal. And the United States is no exception. National symbols of the U.S.A. are the Flag, National Anthem, Great Seal of the United States, Bald Eagle, Uncle Sam, The Statue of Liberty, and the White House.

The phrase "In God We Trust" is the official motto of the United States (national motto). It is printed on all paper banknotes of the country. This motto is one of the national symbols of the U.S.A.

Joe Biden is the current President of the United States of America.

- Further information regarding the symbols and knowledge of the United States of America can be found in the table of contents -

There are no comments yet.